Meet Friday

Friday evening in council chamber the first fall meeting of the Board of Trade will be held. This meeting will be largely devoted to re-organization for the fall civic campaign A number of committees doing special work will make reports, but little is expected at the first meeting of the regular committee. Impromptu talks will be asked of the members, suggesting various matters that deserve the early attention of the board. It is urged that as large an attendance as possible be present. There are 254 members now in good standing which gives the board an annual operating fund of $726.00. It is planned to increase this number greatly during the present year before the annual banquet.

Star Theatre

Gripping, photoplay masterpiece at the Star theatre today—"The Warrens of Virginia" featuring Blanche Sweet, a magnificient spectacular photodramatization of military and domestic conditions during the days of our Civil war, a Paramount.

Convention

Uniontown, Pa, Sept. 15—The state convention of the Junior Order United American Mechanics yesterday morning opened a three day convention here with 250 delegates present and 150 others expected.

Former Congressman Wooda N. Carr gave the address of welcome and Burgess R. D. Warman spoke in behalf of the city of Uniontown. The response was made by D. K. Horner of Wilkinsburg, state councilor.

The morning was spent in receiving delegates and assigning them to hotels.

The afternoon session was spent in hearing reports of committees. The state membership reported that during the last year 3,000 members were added, making the state membership 39,000. There are 303 councils in the state.

The committee on finance reported that contributions for the order's orphanage to be erected at Tiffin, O., amounted to $3,572. The amount needed is $6,000.

BERKEY H. BOYD IN THE LEAD

So we learn by the forecasts from all sections of the county. And this is as it should be, since Mr. Boyd is worthy and in every way deserving of the office to which he aspires, that of County Commissioner on the Republican ticket. Boost him and vote for him next Tuesday. Note what other papers say about him:

"Berkely H. Boyd of Scottdale, who is a candidate for County Commissioner on the Republican ticket, looks like a winner. Mr. Boyd is competent and worthy, and if nominated and elected, he will administer the affairs of the office in the interest of all the people If you wish to place your vote where it counts most, vote for him."—Scottdale Independent.

"He bears the reputation of being one of the most clean cut and capable men aspiring to public office."—Monessen News.

"Although our home candidate for County Commissioner, Berkey H. Boyd has been somewhat handicapped by a lingering cold, we are pleased to note he is making a strenuous campaign and by all present indications from the Republican strongholds throughout the county, he will lead the ticket for County Commissioner next Tuesday Mr. Boyd has never held a county or other remunerative office and he is certainly entitled to some recompense for his efforts in Westmoreland politics. He believes that economy in the expenditure of the county funds is not "a lost art;" that a uniform system of taxation should be inaugurated for Westmoreland county; that county contracts should be given out by bids according to law without fear or favor; and that each section of the county should get its just share of improved roads. Mr. Boyd has the right conception of the duties of a county commissioner and there should be a united effort to get him every Republican vote in this section at the primaries. Here is your chance, Mr. Taxpayer, to vote for honest and efficient administration of the county affairs Go to the poles next Tuesday and not only vote but work for Berkey H. Boyd for county commissioner."—Scottdale Observer." 1t fp

Good Word For Sheriff Ben Steele

Sheriff Ben Steele was over from Greensburg bright and early Monday morning on official business, and before leaving paid his respects to the Times Sun. That the genial official is more than making good on the public trust reposed in him over two years ago, that he is fulfilling every pre-election pledge, is borne out by observers of his official conduct, as well as by the records of his office and the annual statement of the controller. It can justly be said that Ben Steele is one of the few reform officials that Westmoreland county has had in more than a generation, and in view of the official conduct of some public servants in Greensburg at this time, this fact is indeed refreshing. Previous to Ben Steele's term, the office barely maintained itself, but things are quite different now. At the close of the first year, Mr. Steele turned over to the county $3,552 in excess of the expenses of his office, and at the end of his second year, (1913) $2,758, a total of the two years of over $7,000. "Well done, good and faithful servant."—West Newton Times Sun

Wants $20,000

An action in trespass for damages amounting to $20,000 was filed in the Greene county courts yesterday by Jesse W. Wise, candidate for judge in that county against M.D. Wood, Waynesburg chief of police, A. A. Purman, burgess of Weynesburg, and the borough of Waynesburg, in connection with the arrest and sentence of Wise for alleged disorderly conduct last Saturday.

In the statement of his claim, Attorney Wise sets forth that he is a member of the law firm of Wise & Manor, having offices in Pittsburgh. He, says he has had a good practice and has born an enviable reputation prior to this incident. He says, moreover, that his arrest, fine and sentence have been humiliating to him and may have a bad effect upon his practice and his reputation.

Mr. Wise says further that officers and individuals conspired to take his automobile away from him simply to get him into trouble, while as a matter of fact, he says he was paying $5 a day for the rent of the car. For all this he feels that $20,000 is a small sum to ask.

An appeal was also taken yesterday from the summary conviction of Mr. Wise before Burgesse A. A. Purman last Sautrday on the disorderly conduct charge. The appeal states that Wise was arrested Saturday by Chief of Police Wood, placed in the county jail where he waited two hours and a half for a hearing, that the arrest was without warrant, conviction was against the evidence and that he, Wise, had been done much harm by the arrest. The appeal was followed by Judge James Ingbram.

Tuesday morning Florence B. Hawk and R. M Hawk, her husband, entered suit against the Pennsylvania railroad company to recover $10,000 damages done to Mrs. Hawk on the afternon of May 19, 1915, while crossing Ninth street, New Kensington. In the statement of claims, Mrs. Hawk says she was crossing the railroad tracks at Ninth street in her automobile and that a train approached without a signal being given and struck the automobile, smashing it and injuring her. She claims that she is under the constant care of a physician and that her health is permanently injured.

Help Them Be Honest

The approach of election time inspires the editor of the Wellsville, O Union to defend candidates for public office in the following eloquent manner:

"Hands up! I want $50.00 for a page in this book to be issued by the So and So Society of Squeeze You Good, this county.

"Something less than a hundred thousand will be distributed in this county and unless you 'duff' up, our millions of friends won't vote for you. 'Bing,' held up by the daylight highway robber. Poor candidate. It costs money and they're all doing it.

"On behalf of the candidates for political office, the Union desires to register a protest against the efforts of persons organizations, charitable and money making schemes in holding them up for contributions We believe we express the sentiments of all the candidates when we say that these systematized efforts are an imposition.

"The candidates for public office are asked to give to this or that organization, to advertise in programs of all sorts, class papers, and to help those in need of money. The church vote, the labor vote, the farmer vote, the votes of this class and that is held up as a possible bait, some even threaten a candidate with the loss of votes of a certain organization if he does not come across.

"The candidate has come to be regarded as legitimate prey for everyone who needs money. Just how these men expect to file a report without perjuring themselves, the solicitors do not seem to figure While they may class these contributions as advertising 'for the dissemination of information,' they are in reality gifts and are subscribed because they are candidates and therefore are against the act of assembly.

"The people should make it easy for a candidate to conduct an honest and legitimate campaign and not make it more difficult

"We wonder how the voters expect a candidate for office to be honest and immune from all forms of graft when he is "grafted" by so many different people before he gets into office

"The wonder is that the men who are elected to office are as free from dishonest practices as they are after all they have gone through during a campaign. Give the political candidate at least an even chance to get into office without being bled and threatened and blackmailed."

We Rise To A Point

Mrs. Grace Lane of Los Angeles, who, after a brief but exciting matrimonial experience, says she's done with romance, desires to issue a warning to girls who don't look before they leap into matrimony. Beware, she says, the man who by some hook or crook manages not to spend any money on his wife.

We cheerfully pass the warning along. A man who doesn't spend any money on his wife is a wretch to be avoided by every pure minded girl. Moreover, a fellow who doesn't spend any money on his girl, before she's his wife, is a measly tightwad, as well as a fool. Can such

But, merely as an addition to general information, will Mrs Lane please tell by what hook or crook Lane managed not to spend any money on his wife? Men of inventive genius like that may be of great use to the nation in its efforts at preparedness for war

It is said Bill Flinn, ex-bull moose boss in Pennsylvania, is going to head Gov. Brumbaugh's boom for the presidency. Flinn is out with the Republican organization, and it looks to the observer as though the Governor is not going to be pushed up to the presidency by the Republican machine and about the only way for him to stay in the game is via the Flinn route. If the Governor had intended to stay in politics and aspire higher, he should have grappled his friends to his heart with hooks of steel. It will be years before the state leadership will again be changed and aspirants for high honors had better look to organized support.

ement to the Voters of Westmoreland Co.:

. . . by . . .

John E. Shields

copie know of the "Shields" cases. In my campaigning thus ndidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff i have dis- it the people of Westmoreland county have taken a deep in- se cases from beginning to end. I want to extend my thanks rty reception given me in all parts of the county and wish to voters that I deeply appreciate their offers of support. The very town and township that I have visited have shown an l a knowledge of the ins and outs of these famous cases that feel that among the PEOPLE THE SPIRIT OF FAIR VERY MUCH ALIVE.

nies Crippled

emies, though weak in numbers, are still trying to fight me, ding the fact that a number of them have already conceded tion. The support tendered me long before time for an- aused them to keep under cover. Strenuous efforts were ep me out of the fight. There are two reasons. One is that want me in the sheriff's office. The other is that they didn't a candidate because it was believed that my presence in the time would prejudice the chances of their candidate for friends wanted me to run and I felt that the time for a vin- the hands of the people was here and therefore I am in the nouncement as a candidate threw a big scare into my oppo- first it was rumored how they would combine against me. The which this report was received over the county no ted their ears for a change in tactics followed a long spell of fact the methods employed are so despicable that I was let them pass unnoticed but finally decided to make brief them. Big campaigns against me have been singularly un- or my enemies. This no doubt led them to a conclusion that y to campaign against me this time would be by the SEWER Hirelings who pose as having some influence with the people "Bought and Paid For" by these interests. Their informa- e distributed by circulars and letters. Their "dope" consists tories made out of the whole cloth and constructed along such hey think my friends may weaken off when they read them.

ıan's Treachery

rancis Feehan should come over to the side of the coal barons it is not surprising. AND I THINK THIS SUDDEN OF HEART UPON THE PART OF FEEHAN WILL IN THE LEAST SURPRISING TO THOSE WHO IM Over a year ago Feehan volunteered his hearty support e event that I was a candidate. His support to me amounts to ame as his support did to the coal miners of this county when forced to accede to all the terms of the operators and return IS THERE A SINGLE WORKING MAN IN WEST- ND COUNTY WHO WILL HEED THE CALL OF A E FEEHAN? In his letter in the interests of the coal barons s much, but proves nothing. The absolute falseness of his throughout may be illustrated by the one assertion that he it me that "He seemed to do everything the coal operators de- jure the cause of the strikers." Think back over the fight inst me by these coal barons and the PRICE I PAID for not bidding and weigh this against Feehan's absurd statement. ire that Feehan knew very little about what was going on in Westmoreland county during the strike. He was seldom in ith the men. It seemed to be too hot for Feehan and the and county boys were left to stand their own ground WHICH THEY BRAVELY DID WITHOUT FEEHAN'S AID. And still this same Feehan would presume to know more about the than the laboring men of Westmoreland county who came in contact with me every few days during the strike. THEY KNOW THAT I TREATED THEM WITH ABSOLUTE FAIRNESS THROUGHOUT AND PAID BITTERLY FOR MY FRIENDSHIP TO THEM. I challenge Feehan to prove a single accusation that he makes against me, or stand condemned.

When Friends are Friends

It has been a source of gratification to me to have my TRUE friends tell me that they fully realize why these stories are being circulated, that they appreciate their questionable origin and know the calibre of men who lend themselves to such schemes. The vain efforts of my foes are apparent wherever these hirelings show their hand. The people remember the circumstances of the cases in which I figured. For over fifteen months I lay in the prison hospital at death's door. But a time came when I was granted a FULL AND FREE PARDON. I am fully qualified to hold the office notwithstanding any reports that my enemies may circulate to the contrary. The reception given me by my friends was indeed an evidence of what TRUE friends mean.

Asking for Vindication

As a candidate I now ask for a complete vindication from the vicious prosecution which I have had to undergo. The people know the issues for which I stood when my foes first began their pursuit This pursuit has been relentless. It is weaker now than it has ever been. The methods they are using is the best possible evidence of this. They have been forced to ease up on me FOR FEAR THAT THEY WILL LOSE OUT ELSEWHERE. My battle has cost me much. My health which was broken by the confinement, has almost been recovered, for which I am quite thankful. The financial cost meant practically everything I had received in office. In asking for this vindication I can assure the people that no corporation or coal miner, nor employer of labor or employe, no man or set of men in any line of work need have any fear of me. REGARDLESS OF FRIENDS OR ENEMIES I shall try to do my duty, if elected, by giving a square deal to the citizens of Westmoreland county, regardless of their standing.

Respectfully,
JOHN E. SHIELDS.

INTERESTING HISTORY OF WESTMORELAND COUNTY TREASURER CANDIDATES

A little history of three Republican candidates for Treasurer of Westmoreland county, taken from the late history and boiled down, published in 1906, compiled under the supervision of Jno. W. Gordon, LL. D., we find the following of Republican candidate A D. Miller on pages 28 and 646, volume 3:

Dr. A. D. Miller of Manor, a leading member of the medical profession, engaged in active practice at Manor, was born at Adamsburg, Westmoreland county, in 1859. His literary education was obtained in the Greensburg schools, Indiana State Normal and Washington and Jefferson College. He received his medical degree at the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in May, 1885. He has been an active Republican since attaining his majority. Dr. Miller's ancestors have been in Westmoreland county since 1750. This history has to say, in part, an interesting book might be written on the early struggles of this family, its love of country and duty, as we trace it from a century before our nation's independence, helped by the Republican workers of this great family. Dr. A. D. Miler has never held a county office and the people he sprung from think he should have the honor for his life long service to the party.

Dr. A. D. Miller

In the same history in page 214, volume 3, we find: Jesse Hancock, now of Monessen, was born in Washington county on March 14, 1856. He came to Westmoreland county in 1901. C L Schuck who has been in the Legislature several times, is a son-in-law. Mr. Hancock has been in this county 14 years.

On page 416, volume 2, we find that Harry C. Wilson was born in Fayette county in 1871. In 1892 he came to Avonmore, Westmoreland county, and built the Wilson hotel. He moved to Greensburg, where he has been proprietor of the Tavern until a short time since. The Wilson hotel cost $20.000. 1t

The dividing line between the first and second precincts of the First ward runs north and south, beginning at the center line of First street and the P. & L. E., running south along the center line of First street to Linden avenue, thence west along the center line of Linden avenue to Second street; thence South along the center line of Second street to the borough line.

The dividing line between the first and second precincts of the Second ward are as follows. Beginning at the intersection of the center line of Third street and Reed avenue, thence in a westerly direction along the center line of Reed avenue to Ninth street; thence South along the center line of Ninth street to McMahan avenue; thence east along the center line of McMahan avenue to Sixth street, thence South along the center line of Sixth street to the southern boundary line of the Second ward; thence in an Easterly direction following the original ward line to the borough line.

The Third ward remains unchanged with the voting places as before in Boyd's blacksmith shop at Ninth and Donner avenue. 78-4t

FOR

COUNTY CONTROLLER

Republican Candidate

JOHN S. SELL

Primary Election 1915

My record in the conduct of the Fiscal affairs of Westmoreland county is open for inspection and upon this I respectfully solicit your influence and support.

He Wouldn't Give Thanks.

An eighteenth century clerical humorist, one Thom of Govan, the Glasgow Herald states, had no great fondness for days of national fasting or even of thanksgiving. At the close of the American war he commenced a sermon thus: "My friends, we are commanded by royal authority to meet this day for the purpose of public thanksgiving. Now, I should like to know what it is we are to give thanks for. Is it for the loss of thirteen provinces? Is it for the slaughter of so many thousands of our countrymen? Is it for so many millions of increased national debt? I see, my friends, you are all laughing at me, and I am not surprised at it, for were I not standing where I am I would be laughing myself."

Politeness In China.

In China parents are held responsible for the manners of their children. Accordingly, for the credit of their parents people try to be polite If you are mobbed in a Chinese town you should look straight at one or two of the people and say: "Your parents did not pay much attention to your manners They did not teach you the rules of propriety." A remark like this will make the crowd slink away, one by one, ashamed of themselves.

The Secret of a Good Figure often lies in the brassiere. Hundreds of thousands of women wear the Ben-Jolie Brassiere for the reason that they regard it as necessary as a corset. It supports the bust and back and gives the figure the youthful outline fashion requires.

BEN JOLIE (BE-AN JO-LEE) BRASSIERES are the daintiest, most serviceable garments imaginable. Only the best of materials are used—for instance, "Walohn", a flexible bonine of great durability—absolutely restless—permitting laundering without removal.

They come in all styles, and your local Dry Goods dealer will show them to you on request. If he does not carry them, he can easily get them for you by writing to us. Send for an illustrated booklet showing styles that are in high favor.

WE wish to impress upon the public the fact that Our Anniversary Sale is not a clearance sale in any sense of the word. It is not the closing out of odds and ends or old stock. Our buyer went into the market especially to secure new merchandise for this event and the great percentage of the merchandise has been in stock less than two weeks. Our anniversary is a celebration and we invite our customers and the people generally of Monessen and the surrounding communities to take advantage of this opportunity.

A WORD ABOUT BEAUTY

By the Countess of Warrick

This cultured lady recently said that she approved the discreet and skillful use of a little color and powder especially for evening. "I protest," she said, "against the terrible practice of morning make-up." She tells us t hat the greatest beautifier is the use of a good cold cream instead of soap After applying the cream, wash it off with hot, very hot water, ram water by choice and then dry with a soft towel.

Here then, are the good face creams:—

Comforting Words

Many a Monessen Household Will Find Them So

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from anoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of Monessen readers:

Mrs. Ida Coleman, 311 Sixth street, Monessen, says: "I was troubled by a constant backache and in the morning especially when I stooped to put on my shoes, I found it hard to straighten. Sharp pains took my breath away. I felt tired all the time and had dizzy spells and hot flashes. My head ached. I doctored for a long time but didn't get much good and finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Kirk's Drug store. They gave me great relief and after I had taken the second box, the trouble disappeared. I haven't had any cause for complaint since. Others of the family are now using Doan's Kidney Pills and consider them the best kidney medicine on the market."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Coleman had. Foster-Mifburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

AUTOMOBILE TOURING HAS INCREASED

Washington, D. C., Sept. 13—Although the weather reports throughout the United States show an abnormal rain fall—in many instances the increase being more than 300 per cent.— automobile touring has increased, over any previous year, for all sections of the country The east continues to show the lion's share of cars from other sections, with New England maintaining its position in having cars displaying the license plates of nearly every state in the union

Transcontinental touring also continues to grow in the number of cars enroute The various highway associations looking after the different routes have not let the weather discourage them and are continually at work repairing any damage to the roads caused by the rains. On some of them a patrol system is maintained and weekly bulletins issued showing exact conditions from point to point even where these conditions are not favorable.

These transcontinentalists are widespread in their home points of departure, the records of the Touring Bureau of the American Automobile association, both at the Washington and New York headquarters, show that the bureau is routing cars not merely from the Atlantic seaboard, but from all the great farming states west of the Mississippi river and between the Canadian and Mexican borders.

This routing demand has made the transcontinental automobile map, showing all the established routes across the country, one of the most papular of the many route maps issued by the touring bureau of the A. A. A.

A Deathbed Triumph

By WILLIAM CHANDLER

An old man lay on the bed of death. A doctor sat by him intent upon some method of saving his life. An entirely different problem was in the mind of the sufferer.

"Doctor," he said presently, "can't I die for a short time, then come to life again for a certain purpose?"

"What purpose?" asked the doctor.

The invalid cast his eyes about the room to see that no one was present, then, stretching forth his hand, drew the doctor to him and whispered what he had to say. When he came to a pause the doctor said:

"I have suspected as much."

"Can it be done?" asked the invalid.

"It can be tried."

Some more conversation followed, in which the doctor gave the sick man instructions, and the sick man did the same by the doctor. Then the latter ended the matter by saying:

"Are you ready?"

"Yes."

The doctor took from his medicine case a tablet and placed it in the patient's mouth.

The sick man, who was lying on his back, stared at the ceiling, immovable The doctor went hurriedly to the door and opened it. There stood the wife of the invalid.

"Madam," said the doctor, "I fear that your husband is dead."

The woman hurried into the room and stood over the sickbed for a few moments looking down into the pale face. The doctor, who was beside her, closed the eyes of her husband, then led her away, saying:

"This has been a long trial to you. Your watch is now over. Go and rest yourself."

She suffered herself to be led away and within an hour was in bed and asleep.

Paul Markham passed away at dawn the next morning Preparations were made for the funeral, which was held three days later, and on the fourth day his widow, who was his second wife, and her two children by a former husband, all dressed in deep mourning, entered the drawing room of the house in which Mr. Markham had died and took seats. A number of other persons, including a lawyer, entered, and when all were seated the attorney unfolded a document and was about to begin its reading when Dr Blanchard, who had attended the deceased, entered in company with a girl of fifteen. There was about her a melancholy that savored of despair

"I have here," said the lawyer, "the last will and testament of Paul Markham, deceased, executed one year ago."

He then read the will, which left all his property to his beloved wife, June Markham, trusting that she would sufficiently provide for his daughter, Ethel Markham. Having stated that the will had been duly signed and witnessed, he added that it would be immediately filed for probate. He was refolding the document when Dr. Blanchard arose and, drawing a paper from his pocket, said:

"I have a will executed a few hours before Paul Markham's death."

The widow's countenance changed immediately.

"If you have any such will," she said, "it is a forgery. At any rate it was not witnessed. That I know, because I was in attendance upon my husband every day and hour during his last illness, and I know no one who could have witnessed a will entered the house."

"What time did you go to bed the night your husband died?" asked the doctor.

"At 10 o'clock."

"Your husband did not die till 2 o'clock the next morning."

"He died at 9 o'clock in the evening. You called me into the room where he lay and told me he was dead."

"I told you I feared he was dead. He was very low. He revived, and at midnight I drew this simple will for him, bequeathing all his property to his daughter, Ethel Markham. Two persons came at my call and witnessed the will while you were asleep."

The woman stared at the doctor, although she could hardly believe her senses. For years she had dominated her husband and for a year, since she had forced him to make a will in her favor, had watched him carefully to make sure that he did not make another. At the very end of his life he had outwitted her.

"Let me see it," she said to the doctor.

He held the paper before her. She read it and recognized her husband's signature, though it had been written in the agony of death. Realizing that she had been foiled, she arose from her seat and, followed by her two children, stalked out of the room.

Dr. Blanchard by the terms of the deathbed will was made Ethel's guardian, and she thereafter made her residence with him. Her life had been nearly crushed out of her by her stepmother, and it required some time to restore her to a healthy state of mind and body. But by the time she came of age she was completely recovered, for her surroundings as a member of the doctor's family were all that could be desired, and he knew how to treat her to her advantage professionally. In his old age his savings of years were swept away in a commercial panic, and Ethel Markham provided for him and those of his family who were still too young to take care of themselves.

Local Men At Hearing

The local committee appointed by council to attend the water probe at Greensburg left early this morning for the county seat and will seceure information from witnesses summoned by the consumers who will offer their testimony today. The Westmoreland water case involves large territory and it is expected the investigation will be a thorough one and the local committee will no doubt get valuable facts to present in their fight against the Tri-Cities Water company of this city.

Borough Solicitor A. M. Wyant and his law partner, E. E. Robbins, are two of the attorneys retained by the various boroughs making the fight against the Westmoreland Water company. The local committtee that left here this morning consisted of Burgess Dunlap, Borough Engineer Johns and Councilmen Hunter, Kruell and Bumer.

The first of the sessions were held at Pittsburgh some time ago, and at that time only the side of the water company was heard. After sitting for three days the members of the commission decided to go to Greensburg where a better idea, it was thought, of the situation could be obtained. The principal grievance of the consumers of the various boroughs mentioned is that the rates charged for water are exhorbitant. It is the hope of the consumers and their attorneys that the commission after hearing the testimony in respect to the physical valuation of the property of the water company, the rates will be reduced.

The testimony on behalf of the water company was finished yesterday morning with a brief examination of Superintendent L. B. Smith, one of the water company. Mr. Smith made a rather clear statement of his estimate of the value of the pipe lines and holdings of the company, and it was in line with the claims of the company that the rates charged were not high when the value of the property was taken into consideration.

Attorney E. E. Robbins addressed the members of the commission briefly, outlining the line by which he and his colleagues would attempt to prove to the commission that the water consumers of the various towns are overcharged. The attorney went deeply into the details leading to the formation of the Westmoreland Water company, and kindred companies. He insisted that in Jeannette especially the consumer using less than 5,000 gallons of water was paying the water company fully 86 cents per thousand gallons. He pointed out that the water company had a contract with the Mountain Water Supply to furnish water for consumption in this district, covering the towns now making protest against the rates, and the company would charge 60 cents per thousand gallons to the consumers. The attorney recited many other matters of like nature that would be presented in way of evidence from competent engineers and others before the close of the session.

Effort For Consolidation

New Kensington, Pa., Sept. 14—In compliance with petitions filed in the three bodies, a joint meeting of the borough councils of New Kensington, Arnold and Parnassus will be held here tonight with the purpose of discussing the matter of consolidating the communities with a view of forming the district into a city of considerable size. The meeting will be held in the New Kensington municipal hall. It is expected that a date will be set for an election to be held in each of the boroughs to give the voters a chance to express their views in the proposed consolidation.

Injured In Auto Accident

When the lights on the automobile driven by Albert O'Donnell of Donora, suddenly went out while driving with a party of Charleroi and Donora young people toward Charleroi Monday evening, the car plunged into the bank and overturned. The eight in the party were more or less shaken up and the car was badly damaged. The accident happened near what is known as "the election house" on the Bentleyville road near Colvin's.

When the lights went out O'Donnell was unable on account of the darkness to keep the car in the road.

In the car were the Misses Ruth Majors, Nell Ludwig, Marie and Johanna Estenfelder of Charleroi, Al. Reed, Leo O'Donnell, L. Fogg and Albert O'Donnell of Donora. Miss Marie Estenfelder was caught under the car when it went over and was bruised about the head. Albert O'Donnell, the driver sustained two severe cuts necessitating eight stitches.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo — "I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."—Mrs. JOSIE HAM, R. F. D. 1, Box 22, Shamrock, Missouri.

TOM BROWN

Everybody knows Tom Brown, that is everybody who owns or operates an automobile, and if you ask the man who has any dealings with Tom Brown, he will tell you that his word is as good as gold. Tom is proprietor of the Monessen Vulcanizing and Tire Repair Shop and from early in the morning until late at night he can be found in the basement of the Peoples National bank repairing tires with his steam vulcanizing plant. He has never gone back on his word and no job has been too big or to small for him. That he is making an honest living is apparent by the result of his labors and the satisfaction of his customers.

Wanted To Die

New Kensington, Pa., Sept. 14—A man who said he was James Moore, 65 years old, with one leg cut off just below the knee, cast aside his crutches and coat near the middle of the New Kensington-Boquet bridge Monday afternoon and climbing to the rail, leaped into the water, 40 feet below. He was rescued half drowned and taken to the Citizens' General hospital at Parnassus. Two ribs were broken.

Moore said he was sorry that he was rescued for he wanted to die. He said he had been a blacksmith and formerly resided in Franklin township. He said he was without friends and homeless.
